

Parties Hail End of School

By ADALINE CORTEZ

Graduation week was a busy week in the James Snell household, 17511 Cerise Ave. Not only was Ruth Snell, chairman of the luncheon held for the graduating class at Carr Elementary but she also was busy planning a party for Jimmy and his friends, in celebration. Decorations were carried out in a black, red and white theme. A huge black cap and tassel covered a ceiling fixture and from this ran black and white streamers. The table was set in black and white swags and bows. The centerpiece was a low arrangement of red and white flowers with two black pencil-thin tapers, tied with diplomas and red ribbons standing out of the flowers.

TMP Invite Officials To Parade

The Torrance Mounted Police voted at their last meeting to invite the official city family to watch the TMP horsemanship in their next parade, to be held July 5 in Huntington Beach. Although only organized for a year, the Mounted Police already have grabbed off a case full of trophies, which are on display at the City Hall. The group meets each month at the City Hall. At the June meeting, two new members were accepted into the troop — Ted Schroeder and Charlie Gotts. Their horses and equipment were inspected Sunday at the 238rd St. ranch of Police Officer D. C. Cook. Capt. Andy Anderson and Jack Foes conducted the inspection and the new members also were given their riding ability tests. Members commended Chaddie Wright for expert horsemanship at a recent parade held in Costa Mesa. The Torrance colors led the parade and the TMP was presented a trophy. Anderson pointed out that the troop is primarily a working group for civil defense purposes and will have a big job to do in case of a disaster.

Scouts Ready For Big Time This Summer

Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Harbor district are getting ready for the biggest summer camping season they have ever anticipated, according to figures released Friday by Vernon Walker, district camping chairman. Advance registrations indicate that more than 2000 boys from the Los Angeles Area Council will participate in the planned camping schedule, he said. Five sites will open to the Scouts and Scoutmasters. All Scouting activities are always under expert supervision, whether it is unit or Council, Walker said.

North Torrance Sewers Approved

Plans and specifications for construction of a $105,000 sewer system to serve part of the North Torrance area met approval of the City Council this week, according to City Engineer Ronald Bishop. Bids for the project, to serve Crenshaw Blvd., are expected to be called next month.

White and black nuptials with a tiny diploma on the handle delighted the young guests. A sheet cake with the inscription "Congratulations Jimmy" and a red punch with black ice was served. Dancing and games preceded a midnight movie at a Hollywood theatre.

Mrs. Snell accompanied the group which included Jerry Christianson, Jean Sorrell, Lella Sanders, Joan Beckham, Jackie Good, Allan Bledsoe, John Swartzfinger, Carol Atkins, Diane Stanley, Robert Vickers, Peanuts Clark, Roger and Jimmy Snell.

Irene Allison and her three sons, J. J. and J., boarded a train for Oklahoma where she is determined to relax for a month and take a vacation if it kills her.

Also vacationing are the Wendell Towells, 17512 Ermanita Ave., who are spending a few days at Sequoia then motoring to Wishon for some fishing. Judy Bruce joined the Towell family on their vacation.

Before her departure, Den 6 of Cub Pack 781-C feted Mrs. Towell, co-den mother, with a surprise wienner bake at Playa del Rey.

Those present were David Bruce and his family (the Peter Bruces); Jan Osnes (the John Osnes); Wayne Farris (the Orval Farris); Ronnie Gastelum (the Ralph Gastelums) and Eric Cortez (the J. Herman Cortezes) and the Towell family.

Pat Stamm, 17419 Glenburn Ave., has been elected president of the Civic and Philanthropy Club of Los Angeles.

The club has recently started a Junior group and is looking for members interested in contributing their time to underprivileged children.

The group meets at a luncheon monthly at the clubhouse. They have bazaars, card parties and sew for children.

Anyone interested can call Mrs. Stamm at Menlo 9-2093.

Mrs. Stamm was honored once again when neighbors Ann West Gerry King and Virginia Johnson combined forces to hostess a baby shower in her honor. It was held at the King residence, 17412 Glenburn Ave.

Table appointments were carried out in baby pink, blue, yellow and green.

A flower arrangement with a stork in the center and candles held in booties, nuptials with stork on handle and napkins folded like baby socks completed the decorations.

Guests were Edna Patterson, Cora Lee Dawes, Evelyn Walters, Ruth Jarrett, and Connie Gastelum.

Another honoree at a baby shower was Mrs. Louis Bereskin who was feted by Mesdames A. J. Setting and C. A. Sewell, at the Setting residence, 16706 Faysmith Ave.

Mrs. Bereskin, co-leader of a Brownie troop received gifts from the 14 mothers of Brownies present. Prizewinners in games were Marvel Walker, Marge Bereskin, Florence Pfeffer, Doris Oelrich, and Agnes Larson.

Teen-ager Diane Hodges, 17303 Falda Ave., entertained 24 members of her eighth grade class at an outdoor dancing party recently. Cookies, punch and popcorn replenished lost energy.
